FRANCE'S DEFIANCE FOREBODES BREAK

POINCARE, ADAMANTE, WILL DISREGARD SUGGESTIONS

NEW RUHR SEIZURES ARE BEING MAPPED OUT

Determined to Press Fresh Penalties Despite All Protests, Invasion Will Be Extended as Permanent Occupation Step.

Paris.—In a speech inaugurating a new monument to war dead at Neuilly, the French premier said: "We are forced to use penalties. We will take them. If they do not obtain satisfaction we furthermore are resolved not to evacuate the occupied territories before all clauses of the Versailles treaty are executed and we are solidly protected against possibilities of new aggression."

If Poincare is forced to take these new steps that he speaks of—and it is likely now that he will—it is understood he will proceed first with the seizure of Barmen and Elberfeld, two adjoining great textile centers of the Rhineland. This seizure would complete the French grip on Rhineland railroad system and add the necessary touch to permanent occupation of Germany. Then the French political generalissimo could, and probably will proceed to tighten France's grip on the Ruhr, planning exploitation of its great resources on a prominent scale.

Poincare was prompted to his new outburst by word from Central European allies of France—Czechoslovakia, Poland and Jugoslavia—that they would support any punitive measures he takes against Germany. Poincare pointed out to them that they might hang by the same noose which Germany is holding unless they join with France to break the rope.

In view of these declarations, it is not thought likely that accord can possibly be reached with Great Britain unless some unforseen concession bobs up.

In his talk Poincare pointed to his new allies. He said: "In defending out rights we will also maintain the rights of Italy, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania and Jugoslavia."

This statement added strength to the hints which have been dropped in political gatherings regarding the possibility of a new alliance in Europe. Some have it that France may join with her Central European friends against Germany aligned with Russia. England would be out of it in a gathering like that.

FOUR CITIES CONTEST FOR 1924 REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Washington. — Four cities — San Francisco, Chicago, Cleveland and Des Moines—have presented inducements to the convention subcommittee of the Republican national committee here for the coming convention, but when Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, produced written pledges from Chicago hotel keepers promising not to charge more than $5 a day for single rooms and $25 a day for double rooms for four persons, that appeared to settle the matter. Some members of the national committee paid $65 a day in 1920.

Force of habit seems destined to take the Republicans back to Chicago for the national nominating convention next year. They have been meeting there for twenty years and find it difficult to change.

AMERICAN LOANS NOT LINKED WITH GERMAN REPARATIONS

Washington.—The United States again has taken issue with France, the nation that twice has blocked the efforts of this country to bring about a settlement of the reparations controversy. A high authority of the American government entered a complete answer to Premier Poincare's speech before the French Chamber of Deputies in which he was reported insisting that France could not pay her war debt to the United States until Germany has paid the so-called C bonds of reparations, considered by many experts as hopeless of collection.

This country absolutely refused to have the question of the allied war debts linked in any way with the question of payment of German reparations.

Nevada Notables in Wreck

Carson.—Governor J. G. Scrugham former Governor Emmet Boyle and their wives had a miraculous escape from death when Governor Chrugham's enclosed automobile in which they were riding collided with another car, rolled completely over and was wrecked on the Reno-Carson road, seven miles from Carson. They escaped with only minor injuries.

SENATOR JOHNSON SEEKS NOMINATION

CALIFORNIAN FIRST TO GET HAT INTO NOMINATION RING

LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN WITH CHICAGO SPEECH

Senator Runs True to Form and Opens With a Characteristicly Energetic Reiteration of His Position on International Affairs.

Chicago.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California is the first candidate for the presidential nomination to toss his hat into the national ring of 1924.

Johnson, running true to form places his campaign before the nation n a characteristic, vigorous speech and a clear-cut statement of his position on national issues, with the announcement that he would carry his appeal to the American people on a platform of "progressivism and freedom from foreign entanglements."

"The contest will be waged in every state," he said.

"Reaction and progress must fight in out again in the Republican party in the coming presidential primaries. The philosophy of government now obtaining in Washington does not fit present-day needs. Ultra-conservatism there rules, progressivism challenges it. And the ensuing contest will determine whether the Republican party shall be the permanent instrument of reaction or whether it shall respond to present-day conditions and aspirations.

"We should have a revitalized Republican party, a party representing alone its rank and file, the instrument neither of static reaction nor destructive radicalism."

Johnson then struck at proleague Republicans and indicated his fear that America, if the people did not again express their will against such action at the polls, might be drawn into the League of Nations or the world court.

"Our timid, vacillating and contradictory positions demand that America's foreign policy again be decided by the whole people who must themselves, at whatever cost, maintain it. This time the decision should be so clear, so definite and certain, that no casuistry, no specious plea, no indirection can distort it."

Johnson made a number of pointed references to the primaries in his statement.

"I recognize no prescriptive right to office," he said, "and I deny that anyone or any number of men can disregard the poular will, and in defiance of it, dictate our candidates. Peculiarly should this be so at the present time.

"There is discontent abroad in the land; there is threatened disintegration of the Republican party. The discontent and party difficulties arise not because of popular government but from the lack of it. The ultra conservative philosophy, materialistic, stolidly and stubbornly resisting any change, and vigorously contesting every human advance, invites an ultra-radicalism."

After taking the old guard to task for its alleged reactionary policies and "vacillating" foreign policy, Johnson concluded:

"Upon these fundamentals, amplifying and expressing details hereafter to the man and woman who constitute America's free citizenship, I will make my appeal. In every state the contest will be waged. In those states where the voters may express their preference the issue can be definitely decided; and I hope all candidates will participate in the presidential primaries, including California, and cheerfully acquiesce in the result. No man who aspires to the highest office in the gift of the American people should shrink from a verdict by those he seeks to serve; and equally, none is entitled to the presidency whom the people do not want."

Move For Consolidation

San Francisco.—As a preliminary step to a closer affiliation of the various communities comprising the San Francisco metropolitan area, plans are being formulated for the creation of an all-bay chamber of commerce. The move is the outcome of efforts made by San Leandro and the Alameda County Commuters' Club for greater cooperation in matters pertaining generally to the bay district.

22,165 Enter Bok Race

New York.—A total of 22,165 plans for world peace reached the American peace award offices in time to be eligible for the $100,000 prize offered by Edward Bok, the retired publisher. The last eligible entry reached the award officials precisely at the closing minute. It was followed by a steady trickle of plans that arrived too late by minutes for the $100,000 competition.

SCHOOL FESTIVAL BIG SUCCESS

In a setting of most gorgeous trimmings of varied autumn colors, the Cambrian school held its annual festival and handiwork exhibit. At the entrance a huge bank of chrysanthemums was placed along the wall with the radio sets arranged opposite "to announce the arriving guests."

A large "adobe" mission erected by the children was an interesting bit of construction displaying considerable skill in clay work. Candy, sweet cider, and apron booths were very popular spots, while flower venders passed among the interested visitors selling pretty bouquets. The food display products of the domestic science pupils was sold at the close of the evening. This was unquestionably one of the best exhibits the school has held and the funds realized from the sales will be used for the good of the school, for which the principal, Miss Grace Hanson, assistants and pupils deserve highest praise.

CAMPBELL ENJOYING BUSY FRUIT SEASON

For the past six weeks the dried fruit industry in Campbell has received quite a stimulant. A number of cars have been shipped from all parts of the state to Campbell where the Geo. E. Hyde plant has been busy sorting, grading, packing and storing for the Prune and Apricot Association.

About 50 women and 30 to 35 men have been employed for the past month in the work which has proved a great boon to the fruit workers of the district.

The J. C. Ainsley plant has been working continuously on dried fruit and salad for which there is today a big market demand.

The California Canneries Co. is shipping canned fruit almost daily, pears being the big pack from this plant.

The Prune and Apricot Growers' Plant 1 has enjoyed a very busy season and the warehouse is full of fruit awaiting orders for shipment.

Campbell is peculiarly fortunate this season in having plants running for the army of fruit workers who need the employment.

Nothing is so sure to build up your town as a constant income for a line of trained hands.

MEN'S EATS POPULAR

The supper and entertainment which the men of the Congregational church give each year was held Friday evening, and largely attended.

Practically all of the 200 places set were filled but the serving was very expeditiously handled by the men and boys.

The program was also provided by the men. Mr. Homer De Witt Pugh charmed the audience with his sweet voice, singing three numbers, responding to insistent encores. He was accompanied by Mrs. Pugh, who is an artist, too.

Ralph Bohnett played two very effective trombone solos, with Irma Young at the piano.

A playlet, "Frazier's Friends" designed for church and similar entertainments, was presented by Donald Elvey, Merlin Bohnett, Geo. Robson, Chester Archibald, Douglas Cutting and Charles Thompson.

The real hit of the play was made by Mr. Robson who portrayed the character of Mrs. Webster, a prim landlady.

One of the very pleasant events of the evening was the response of Edmond Vance Cooke to an urgent request to speak. He told several stories in his delightful manner.

PUNDITA ART DAY

The Pundita held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. C. D. Gill of Allendale avenue.

After a short business session, Mrs. Ira Beal took charge of the meeting. Miss Irma Young pleased the company with a well-rendered piano solo, "The Swan" bySaint. The subject for the day was "Art" and Mrs. Webb read a well-prepared paper on Interior Decoration, dealing largely with the harmonious choosing of furnishings and the making of a home-like home. Mrs. Beal followed with a paper on color-schemes and the furnishing of rooms for individual members of the family.

Mr. David Saunders sang three of Harry Lauder's songs in a most realistic manner, "It's Nice to Get Up in the Mornin'," "Roamin' in the Gloamin'" and "The Wee Hoos 'Mang the Heather. He was accompanied by Miss Irma Young.

After the program, a social hour and light refreshments were much enjoyed by all.

Santa Clara County School Masters Club will hold "a relax meeting" at Hotel Montgomery Monday evening to enjoy a dinner party and social hour. Jerome Shaffer is the entertainer for the hour. E. J. Cuthbertson of Campbell is president of the club and Superintendent Hancock is secretary.

ED. VANCE COOKE SPEAKS AT CAMPBELL

Campbell has been favored with the presentation of a number of high grade entertainments during its history, but none ever surpassed that of last Thursday evening when Edmund Vance Cooke gave a lecture with readings from his own poems.

Mr. E. J. Cuthbertson introduced Mr. J. U. Higinbotham, of Saratoga, a life long friend of the author's who had the audience in a jovial state from the outset and who was most happy in his choice of phrases.

From his opening remark to the close of the entehrtainment an hour and a half later. Mr. Cooke held his audience to the closest possible attention. The lecture itself which Mr. Cooke presented was full of real thoughtful philosophy skillfully threaded together with rare bits of humor and served as a framework upon which to hang the many gems of verse which he recited.

As one of the critics said, "Mr. Cooke is one of the few authors who does not murder the children of his brain in vocal presentation. Instead he interprets each thought and phrase and he is so very versatile in both production and rendition that the program, long as it really was, seemed all too short.

Fortunate, indeed, were those who heard Mr. Cooke, and all expressed their deep satisfaction that circumstances brought him to Campbell, and made possible his appearance on our local stage.

While here Mr. Cooke and his sister, Miss Lillian Cooke, enjoyed a trip to the Big Basin.

CAMPBELL CARES

The Community Chest drive has been a great success as far as Campbell is concerned, over $1800 having been raised for the chest and nearly $500 for the County Y. M. C. A. work with practically all returns reported.

The Captains for the various districts are: Mrs. A. A. Earl, Mrs. W. I. Merrill, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, Mrs. J. Sharpless, W. R. Coupland, Rev. W. E. Eckles and C. E. York who report to C. H. Whitman, chairman for the entire Campbell Union district.

Mr. Whitman reports that some of the territory has not been reached and if there are any who wish to give to the good cause their gifts will be greatly appreciated.

The many friends of Mrs. C. H. Whitman will be pleased to hear that she is reported somewhat better after a week of serious illness at her home.

GOOD SCHOOLS DO PAY

Good schools do pay! They pay enormous dividends in things that are lasting and that mean most in the Nation's real advancement. Not only do they pay a people in such measurable qualities as literacy, intelligence, and greater earning power, but they pay even greater dividends in unmeasured values. A good school system, offers to everyone who will take it the intellectual heritage of the ages; it frees him from the grip of superstition and fear; it enlarges his interest; it deepens his appreciation for beauty, for truth, and for mankind; it inspires him with a desire for service; and gives him power to carry out this desire.

Can any institution promise more?

CARELESS PARKING

The parking of automobiles near curves, especially in the mountains, to make mechanical repairs or to change a tire is provoking unfavorable comment among motorists. This practice of careless parking is not confined to any one section, it is universal, and should be discouraged.

Frequent warnings of the danger attached to this practice have been issued by authorites, but to no avail. There seems now but one effective remedy and that is a stringent campaign by the traffic police officers patrolling our main highways.

There are, of course, instances when a car becomes so completely disabled that it cannot be removed to a safe position at the side of the road, but such cases are very few.

Most cars that stall or develop tire trouble can be pushed to the side of the road, or if there happens to be a side road nearby push the car around the corner.

In your vexation over your car difficulties do not lose sight of the safety of your fellow motorists. Statistics show that a great many of the serious automobile accidents have been caused by careless parking.

Should you be alone and are unable to push your car out of the path of traffic, ask assistance from a passing motorist. He will be impressed by your thoughtfulness in aiding traffic and will be pleased to give you a helping hand.

FIVE DOLLARS A SEAT!

The San Jose News "hits the nail on the head" in the following editorial:

Five dollars for a seat at a football game. That's getting up into the realms of high finance.

Big stadiums may be fine things, but the preservation of the proper atmosphere of a great amateur sport is an even finer thing; and five dollars for a seat begins to get into the commercial, the professional atmosphere.

Two dollars, two and a half, three dollars,—you may pay such a price and still feel that you are helping support a great amateur sport, a builder-up of character and of manliness. But when you pluck out five dollars—and it means ten in most cases, for few people wish to go alone—you begin to wonder what's the difference between amateur football and professional prizefighting.

It isn't merely the unpleasantness of parting with so much money—it's the realization that these huge financial projects of the modern football management are bound to react in a harmful way on the character of the entire sport, and of the entire university system. Where huge financial stakes are involved, there is no pleasant amateur joyousness; everything is grim business. Dishonesty of all sorts creeps in. Pressure is brought to bear upon the university administration to put, not sport, but business ahead of scholarship. So much money is tied up that nothing is thought of but the money.

It's a bad, expensive and dangerous proposition. It is dangerous because college students are going to be out in the rough and tumble of commercialism soon enough, anyway; and they certainly should not be forced to live in an atmosphere of commercialism throughout their college careers.

The school held its Thanksgiving exercises last Friday afternoon. Mr. Cuthbertson spoke briefly and then the different grades furnished numbers: Miss Stebbins', Mrs. Keesling's and Miss Cameron's rooms each gave very interesting plays, as did Miss Naylor's and Miss Fablinger's class gave a Thanksgiving meeting in Room 14.

The Domestic Science classes have begun serving breakfasts, luncheons and dinners with various teachers as their guests. The first was a breakfast given by the girls of room 14 which was well carried out. Miss Worth, the domestic science teacher deserves a great deal of credit for the work she is doing here.

One of the best features of the of the Thanksgiving program was the dance of Pamela Weston. Her mother, Mrs. Maude Weston, who very successfully conducts a class in fancy dancing in Campbell, is always very kind in giving her time to train Pamela and to come up to school to accompany the dance. Pamela is in demand for all the programs at school. She is to take the part of Cho Cho, the Health Clown, giving a clown dance and demonstrating a health lesson at the Teachers' Institute next week.

This being Education Week, Mr. Cass, County Physical Education Director, came out on Wednesday to inspect the work done in our school and also to speak to the children in assembly. The school is divided into squads with pupils as squad leaders, and it is an imposing sight as they march out in regular order to their places on the grounds, and start playing.

Mr. Cass said that he believed that Campbell was the best organized school in the county in its physical training work.

PRUNE ADS BEST

New York,—Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard, who was one of the distinguished visitors at the National Advertising Exposition held in New York last week, selected the advertising exhibit of the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association as one of the most striking displays shown at the exposition.

This favorable comment by Edison is considered a high compliment to the California fruit growers as the display of their advertising was in competition with the best advertising work put out in America during the past year. The California Prune and Apricot Growers Association exhibit of Sunsweet prune and apricot advertising was displayed in the booth of the Honig-Cooper Company of San Francisco, advertising agents for this co-operative association.

The National Advertising Exposition attracted an unusual amount of attention from business men and the public, as its purpose was to demonstrate the fact that advertising has been a material factor in holding distributing costs in check.

Among other noteworthy exhibits were those of the Goodrich Tire Co., Everready flashlights, Willian Penn and Van Dyck cigars, Mineralava, and Hartmann trunks. A national authority on economics issued the setatement; after a complete investigation of the exhibits and the cost of a number of the articles advertised, that "farmers can now buy more with a bushel of wheat in prunes, tires, automobiles, batteries, raisins, apples, and chocolate than they could in pre-war times."

BIG MEN FROM SMALL TOWNS

Complete List, if Ever Compiled, Would Prove Astonishing to the Average Man.

In Missouri there is a town called Gallatin, which has never contained to exceed 2,000 people. E. W. Howe's Monthly states. Rollin J. Britton, a Kansas City attorney, is making a collection of photographs of prominent men produced in Gallatin and its immediate vicinity. This collection will be presented to the county in which Gallatin is located, and hung in the courthouse. Mr. Britton informs us that the list now numbers 160, and includes two United States senators, three members of the lower branch of congress, three members of presidents' cabinets, a governor, numerous judicial and military officers, and business, literary and professional men of note.

Here is a story of a country town that should attract wide attention. All over the United States antiquated and dull country towns are educating and sending out men of prominence and unusual ability. What an encouragement for country boys!

Use of Scopolamine Would Violate Two Fundamental Rules of Common Law

By DR. GEORGE W. KIRCHWEY, Penologist.

SUPPOSE the suspect did tell the truth under the influence of scopolamine, the "drug-that-makes-you-tell-the-truth" that created such a sensation in San Quentin. Would evidence obtained through its use be admissible in a court of law? No.

Our system of law is accusatorial rather than inquisitorial. Men used to be tortured to make them confess. The rack and thumbscrew were used. The idea may have been at one time to get the truth, but the effect was to wring a confession from the victim.

The use of scopolamine might be classed as a mild form of torture; but, assuming that it does bring out the truth, it would violate two fundamental rules of our common law. The first of these is that the accused person may not be questioned after arrest or during a magisterial hearing, and the second is that torture may not be used to extort the truth.

In many European continental countries the magisterial function is inquisitorial. He questions the witness, heckles him, tries to wring the truth out of him.

In the English common law this is not done; it is not possible. Under our system the accused man cannot be questioned either preliminary to or during his trial. A confession may not be obtained from a man unless it is a free confession, given without fear or favor. Otherwise it cannot be produced in court. No immunity can be promised. A confession obtained under promise of immunity can't be introduced.

All that can be done is for the accused to be asked whether he wishes to make any statement, and even then the police official must caution him that anything he may say will be used against him. Indeed, we carry it to the point that the district attorney may not draw the attention of the jury to the fact that the accused did not take the witness stand. To do so is to furnish a basis for a new trial, and the higher court must grant a new trial.

CHRISTMAS MAIL DIRECTIONS GIVEN

The postoffice department has issued bulletins regarding Christmas mail and in order to give these instructions as wide publicity as possible we are printing a few of the most important.

If the public could only be brought to realize the vast amount of mail, both letters and packages, delayed, damaged, or undeliverable because of improper or insufficient addressing or wrapping, much more care and attention would be given to its preparation. Please read and note carefully all the directions given.

Article easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely packed. Use liberal quantities of excelsior or like material in, around and between the articles and the outside container.

Addresses should be complete with house number and name of street if mail is delivered by city carrier, post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left hand corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper, and a copy of the address inclosed inside the parcel.

Gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 21; within 2 days travel, not later than December 18; 3 days, Dec. 16; for more distant points, Dec. 14. Parcels for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22.

Christmas stamps and stickers must not be placed on the address side of mail matter. Posters or stickers resembling postage stamps are not permissable on mail matter. In using Christmas stickers they should be so placed as not to seal the parcel.

The new vehicle act requires the owners of motor vehicles to pay a straight $3 registration fee, whether it be a twin, six-, four-, or two-cylinder, a trailer or a motorcycle. The old rating by horsepower is abolished by the new law.

The director general of the government labor department for the Pacific coast reports a general surplus of labor in this state, both skilled and unskilled. Building continues unabated and there is in some cities a shortage of skilled building tradesmen.

Following the decision of the United States Supreme court, upholding the California alien land laws, J. M. Inman, president or the Oriental Exclusion league, stated that he will at once prepare a campaign to compel enforcement of the state's alien land laws, which he declares are ignored and infracted in all sections of the state. The organization, he says, has only awaited the decision of the court to begin grand jury investigations.
